HOLIDAY GIFTS at McClurg's

¶ The beautiful and unusual things which our representative found abroad this summer are now arriving, and are well worth coming to see.

¶ It is our complete familiarity with the best work produced in Berlin, Paris and Vienna that enables us to offer to Chicagoans the artistic wares that are to be found nowhere else west of New York. In fact, many of these articles are made exclusively for our store.

Jackson Boulevard and State Street, Chicago

This Saruk rug is extremely handsome in its contours, the decorative motives are manifestly Perisan, being blooms, stalked and stemmed into a composition which is symmetrical and pleasing. The varied and ever suave sweep of the smaller patterns in the field is also characteristically Persian and the border shows the steady recurrence of a few floriform elements to bound the composition. The silken finished surface of this rug gleams and shimmers with opalescent color effects which improve as the rug is used and gathers age. This rug is  $3\frac{1}{2}$  by 5 feet, and though a gem is priced at \$37.50.

To Buy Such a Rug at Such a Price is to Buy of THE CHICAGO HOUSE WRECKING COMPANY

whose $200,000 stock of Turkish and Persian rugs cannot be approached for fine specimens and wonderful values.

Here every bale of rugs is marked at one price, and that the minimum for ordinary qualities, regardless of the fact that it includes many gems of weaving which in another establishment would be sorted out and sold for fabulous sums. Thus the rug collector may here secure at what would be an unheard of low price for a regular value, a rug which is a masterpiece, worth many times the cost.

Glanz's Furs Are Distinctive

¶ There is distinctiveness in the fur garments that go out of this store. It's partly the brilliance and fine silky quality which belongs to high grade furs—partly the fact that Glanz's furs have always the latest, approved touches of refined style.

This room, 13x13 feet, is beautifully illuminated with one E-401 "I-Comfort" fixture containing one 60-watt tungsten lamp. Cost of lighting same as one ordinary 16 candle-power lamp.

Save Your Eyes!

By Using the New Eye Comfort

"I-Comfort" System

of Indirect Illumination

¶ Imagine a room evenly illuminated, a mellow radiance from a concealed source flooding it with a light soothing to the nerves, becoming to the complexion and yet perfect for reading or sewing.

¶ Those who experience discomfort after a short time under a direct light, suffer no unpleasant effects from an evening's work under the I-COMFORT. Scientists and oculists have long agreed on the perfection of such a system of lighting but heretofore the cost of maintaining and installing has proven prohibitive. The I-COMFORT is simple and inexpensive; under a 60 to 100 Watt Tungsten electric lamp is placed a glass reflector with spiral and vertical corrugations over pure silver, giving the most perfect reflecting surface known to science; the light is thus thrown upon the ceiling and is evenly distributed throughout the room with wonderful efficiency, artistic effect and eye comfort.

¶ Thousands already in use in residences, offices, hotels, banks, clubs, art rooms and auditoriums.

¶ Endorsed by the leading architects, oculists and illuminating engineers.

¶ If your electrical dealer does not handle them address Department F. A.

Meade & Baker's Mouth Wash

Both powders and liquids are needed in the care of the teeth. Powder is the first essential because of its cleaning properties. But powder cannot penetrate all the crevices. So once a day—just before retiring—it is wise to use an antiseptic mouth wash.

Thirty Minutes With an INNER-PLAYER Piano

Half an hour or less is all the time you will require to see how easily you can play any piece of music on one of our Inner-Player Pianos.

The inventor of our Inner-Player mechanism has made music a universal accomplishment because it renders skill in technique unnecessary.

You need not touch the keyboard, and yet you can play even the most difficult composition with natural expression.

You will find that the Inner-Player Pianos are different from any other instruments containing player devices.

You will see a difference in construction, in design, in musical quality and in the facility with which you obtain satisfactory musical effects.

When you have made your inspection we believe that your decision will be to buy an Inner-Player Piano.

As a reminder, let us say that the term Inner-Player is often erroneously applied to ordinary player-pianos. Inner-Player is the name we originated for our patented player mechanism and it cannot be used correctly to describe other similar devices. An Inner-Player Piano is one of our pianos of which the Inner-Player is a part. You can see them for yourself in Chicago only at our salesrooms.
